IPS APPOINTS PHARMACEUTICAL INDUSTRY VETERANS ALAN TUCKER AND ROGER MCLAUGHLIN

Lafayette Hill, PA, March 3, 2008 – Integrated Project Services (IPS), a full-service engineering, design/build, validation and compliance company dedicated to assisting pharmaceutical and biotech companies, today announced the addition of Alan Tucker as North Carolina Regional Manager and Roger McLaughlin as Director, Business Development, Compliance Division.

Mr. Tucker possesses over thirty years experience in program management, project delivery methods, feasibility studies, quality assurance management, facility planning and detailed design of high image and advanced technology facilities. Mr. Tucker's experience includes positions at Piedmont Olsen Hensley, Inc., Arcadis Geraghty & Miller, Inc., and Century Contractors, Inc. Most recently, Mr. Tucker was employed by O'Neal, Inc., a planning, design and construction company, where he served as Senior Manager Business Development. While there, he secured new business relationships with Fortune 500 companies, in addition to maintaining relationships with key clients. A graduate of Clemson University, Mr. Tucker earned a Bachelor's degree in Pre-Architecture in 1975 and went on to receive a Master's degree in Architecture in 1977.

Also joining IPS is Roger McLaughlin who will be based in the company's New Jersey office. Mr. McLaughlin brings twenty years of professional experience specializing in large capital projects for Fortune 500 companies. Prior to joining IPS, Mr. McLaughlin held positions with Victaulic Company of America, SSOE Inc., and most recently at Eaton Corporation where he served as a Major Account Executive – Electrical Distribution Products and Services, where he was responsible for global sales in the pharmaceutical vertical market segment. Mr. McLaughlin earned a Bachelor's degree in Political Science from Montclair State University.

"We're very pleased to bring both gentlemen on board," says Dave Goswami, PE, President and Chief Operating Officer, IPS. "The background and depth of experience each possesses is a great fit for IPS and makes them a true asset to the company and our clients."
