IPS DONATES OVER 2,000LBS OF CANNED GOODS TO PHILABUNDANCE

-- Employees competed in design/build competition while donating to the region's largest food bank --

Lafayette Hill, PA, January 21, 2008 – Integrated Project Services (IPS), a leading, full-service engineering, design/build, validation, and compliance company dedicated to assisting pharmaceutical and biotechnology companies improve operations worldwide, held an internal design/build competition where employees designed and constructed buildings such as the Eiffel Tower and IPS' Headquarters entirely out of canned goods.

Working with cans donated by IPS and company employees, eight teams built structures made entirely out of cans. After the competition the cans were donated to local charity, Philabundance, the Philadelphia region's largest food bank. Held so that employees could vote for the winning effort and contribute to a great cause, the competition supplied a total of 2,240lbs of food to Philabundance.
