IPS strengthens global project delivery with a new leading expert in the construction industry

- Mr. Tom Chapman appointed to grow IPS' EPCMV delivery platform in the Southeastern United States -

Blue Bell, Pennsylvania, August 14, 2017 – IPS-Integrated Project Services, LLC (IPS), a leading global provider of design, engineering, project controls, construction management, commissioning and qualification services, announces the strengthening of their integrated EPCMV (Engineering, Procurement, Construction Management and Validation) delivery platform with the addition of Mr. Tom Chapman as the Regional Construction Management Director for the Southeastern United States. As Regional Director, Mr. Chapman will also lead IPS' North Carolina office.

The addition of new leadership in the Southeast Region reinforces IPS' capability and commitment to provide business solutions to clients via lean, integrated services.

Mr. Chapman is a well-recognized figure and a proven leader in the engineering and construction industry. Tom has spent most of his career in leadership positions for large, well-known construction organizations and has a long history of delivering complex projects especially in the Life Science sector. His expertise in the biopharmaceutical sector has earned him recognition from many industry organizations such as International Society for Pharmaceutical Engineering (ISPE), Lean Construction Institute (LCI), and Construction Users Roundtable (CURT) for managing and successfully delivering reliable, safe, best-in-quality, lean and integrated capital projects using highly collaborative and innovative execution approaches.

"IPS strives to find influential knowledge leaders and Mr. Chapman's renowned industry construction expertise made him the perfect fit for IPS' vision," said Dave Goswami, P.E., IPS Chairman and Chief Executive Officer. "Tom's leadership skills and knowledge of lean delivery will support our goal of being known as one of the top Integrated EPCMV service providers."

As a subject matter expert in lean project delivery, Tom will also provide support to improve IPS' corporate EPCMV processes, tools, and delivery methodologies with a continued focus on safety, quality, and sustainability.
